

NATIONAL SEMINAR 2019

Annamacharya College of Pharmacy has organized National Seminar on INNOVATIONS IN PHARMACEUTICAL EDUCATION & RESEARCH, in association with Indian Pharmaceutical Association, in its plumage campus Rajampet.

The Chief Guest, Dr. T.V. Narayana, President, Indian Pharmaceutical Association, Mumbai delivered the role of pharmacist as an inevitable personality in curing the diseases. All the members on the stage inaugurated IPA-Student's Forum ANCP CHAPTER, which offers the platform for student community to come closer, improving status of profession, improving health care, promote leadership, pharmacy policy development exposure to international pharmacy scenario, creating awareness campaigns on T.B, Blood Donation, AIDS, Anti-Tobacco and Anti-Diabetes.

The Guest of Honour, Prof. K. Prahlada Rao, Rector, JNTUA, Ananthapuramu, Proclaimed the efforts of formulating pharmacists for preparing medicines with novel thoughts and researches to bring to light with the result of preparing suitable molecule as medicine for dreadful diseases and to save this world from ailments.

The Distinguished Guest, Prof. K. P. R. Chowdary, Former Principal, University College of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Andhra University, Visakhapatnam, discussed the process of Research to provide a bridge for new generations. The Promotion of research activities is most important for the innovations or formulations of novel drug delivery systems for maximum therapeutic activity with meagre side effects.

Founder & Hon. Secretary, Sri. C. Gangi Reddy, Distinguished Guest of today's function revealed the importance of participation of students, Research Scholars, Teachers in the seminars could renovate the existed knowledge. He added a statement, "It is through the presentation of papers in seminars one can achieve good success in their career." The participation aware the students to learn what costs Pharma Industry from them in future.

PRIZE WINNER OF ANCP IN INDIAN PHARMACEUTICAL CONGRESS

The faculty member of Annamacharya College of Pharmacy attended and presented a paper in Indian Pharmaceutical Congress, at Amity University, Delhi, entitled with the Theme: Pharma Vision 2030: Indian Pharma Industry- A Global Leader. Mr Y. Pradeep Kumar, Associate Professor, Department of Pharmaceutical Chemistry, presented a paper on research work titled "Microwave Assisted Synthesis, in Silico Drug Design and In-Vitro Anticancer screening of 2-Oxoazetidinyl Pyrazine-2-Carboxamide Derivatives", in Scientific session and won First prize with the cash prize of Rs. 20000, a certificate and memento. Principal, Dr. D. Swarnalatha and Annamacharya College Faculty Team appreciated Mr. Y. Pradeep Kumar upon his achievement in National Conference.

